OIS Weekly Report (4 - 10 April 1985)

A. PROGRESS ON ACTION ITEMS

1. CIA HISTORICAL REVIEW PROGRAM. The Director of Information Services called a meeting of the FOIA inter-directorate group on 8 April to discuss the implementation of the CIA Historical Review Program (HRP). The Agency's History Staff will determine what records are considered of historical significance. The Classification Review Division (CRD) of the Office of Information Services will conduct the declassification review. The directorate that is the custodian of the records will coordinate the review and approve release, as appropriate after which CRD will prepare the records for release. The Information Resources Management Division (IRMD) will then work with the appropriate directorate and the National Archives and Records Administration (NARA) to accession the records to the National Archives for access by historical researchers and the public.

Although the report to the Congress on HRP is not due until 1 June 1985, we consider it important to take steps now to fulfill the DCI's commitment. The first group of records to be considered will be those covering the SSU and CIG, predecessor agencies.

At the above meeting, representatives from the Directorate of Operations (DO) and the Directorate of Intelligence (DI) agreed to a trial period in which CRD would make the primary review with coordination from the appropriate directorate. This is the initial step in moving toward centralizing the review of documents for declassification. The objective is to handle the review process more efficiently and with greater consistency. Should this experiment prove successful, actions to centralize similar requests—such as documents referred by other agencies—will be considered.

Although the report to the Congress on HRP is not due until 1 June 1985, we consider it important to take steps now to fulfill the DCI's commitment. The first group of records to be considered will be those covering the SSU and CIG, predecessor agencies.

2. OSS RECORDS. A representative from IRMD, the liaison officer from NARA to the Agency, and representatives from the DO began reviewing OSS motion picture films at the Agency Archives and Records Center. The NARA liaison officer will be appraising the film to determine its long-term value and whether it should be accessioned to the National Archives. Professionally qualified DO classification review officers will be reviewing the films to determine if there is any classified information. Films that have long-term value and are determined to be unclassified will be transferred to NARA along with paper OSS records.

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Information Services

FROM:

Chief, Classification Review Division

SUBJECT:

Weekly Report (3-9 April 1985)

1. At a DIS-called meeting on 8 April the DI, DO, and the DS&T agreed to a schedule of actions that will implement the Historical Review Program (HRP). The actions will involve CRD and the History Staff as well as the individual directorates to find the material, review it and eventually get it ready for release to the public. The History Staff will determine what records are of most historical significance, CRD will conduct the declassification review, the holding directorate will conduct their coordinating review and give approval for release, and CRD will prepare the records for release. IRMD/OIS will then work with the directorate and NARA to accession the records to NARA where they will be made available to researchers and the public.

STAT

2. At the above meeting the DO and the DI agreed to a trial period of having CRD/OIS make the initial review and coordinate their actions with the DO and DI of all Mandatory Review requests. This is the initial step in moving towards centralizing Agency review for release into one unit for efficiency and consistency. The DI decet that the system would add another layer of review to the processing cycle and slow it down, but nevertheless agreed to a trial period to see what will happen in practice. Actions to centralize other review requests, such as documents referred by other agencies, will be considered if this initial effort proves itself.

	published as presented because it had been developed by their consultant, approved by a task force, and time was critical to get it distributed. OP did make one concession that since it contained classifiable information it should be classified. Our senior secretary handcarried the EB-questionnaire to
